Congratulations, Carl Cowan!

It is our tremendous pleasure to inform you that our fellow CP&F colleague, Carl Cowan, has been selected as a recipient of the 2021 Daniel D. Federman Staff Award for Exceptional Institutional Service to Harvard Medical School and Harvard School of Dental Medicine.

The Daniel D. Federman Staff Award for Exceptional Service recognizes and celebrates staff members whose exemplary contributions to the school(s) have set the standard for service at HMS/HSDM through their personal initiative to provide service and engaging others to do the same. Carl embodies the spirit of the Federman Award in every regard. From the outset of the COVID-19 pandemic the HMS community has come to rely on Carl's leadership, expertise, and sound guidance. These qualities are further enhanced by Carl's collegiality, good humor, compassion, and his unwavering commitment to the wellbeing of the HMS community.

Please join us in congratulating Carl on this prestigious award.
